

Group creation & synchronization

Last Modified on 04.16.26

Currently, it is not possible to add, remove or edit any groups.

However, it is possible to synchronise the groups from identity sources:

- LDAP – Microsoft Active Directory, JumpCloud or eDirectory.
- Microsoft Entra ID (Azure AD)

It is done automatically, once you finish the configuration of identity source.

In the case of Microsoft Active Directory, you have an option called Include groups that are not security enabled that allows you to add groups that are not secure. For example, the distribution groups in Windows are not secure because their purpose is communication, not access control; they cannot be assigned permissions to resources like files or folders. This option requires the Access Manager license.
